Hanged by a Mob.

William Frazier killed his wife and sister-in-law and cut off the leg of his little baby at Hiteam, Iowa, Wednesday morning. Frazier was about 46 years old and lived at Carbondale. A few days ago his wife left him on account of his drunkenness and abuse, and taking her baby went to Hiteam to stay with her sister, Mrs. Harry Smith. Frazier came to Albia Tuesday and went on to Hiteam Wednesday morning. Within ten minutes after landing there the terrible deed was committed. After finding the residence of Smith he walked in and plunged a knife in his wife's heart, struck his sister-in-law in the breast, killing her almost instantly, and then proceeded to cut off the leg of his baby. Neighbors heard the disturbance and instantly gave pursuit to Frazier, who had made for the woods. After about two hours' exciting chase by nearly all the citizens of the town he was caught and turned over to a Deputy Sheriff and posse, who on Tuesday brought him to Albia. An infuriated mob of miners followed them, took Frazier from the officers, and hanged him. No motive is given for the crime except anger over his wife leaving him.

BIG SHIPPING CANAL.

It Is Proposed Between Lake Erie and the Atlantic Seaboard.

There is a bill before the Dominion Parliament to incorporate the North American Canal Company. Associated with Chauncey Dutton, the promoter, who is from Pittsburgh, are a large number of Canadian capitalists, including Arthur Frier and W. Y. Soper. The capital stock is $10,000,000. The object of the company is to build a wide, deep channel, with the fewest possible locks, between Lake Erie and the seaboard. The canal would be so wide and deep that the largest steam vessels could steam through them at full speed. There would be but seven locks between Lake Erie and the terminals, and but four between Montreal and New York, and the locks would move two vessels at the same time, one ascending while the other was descending. It is proposed to obtain a charter from the State of New York and make a canal from Lake Champlain to tide water in the Hudson River. No United States charter would be required, as the work would be entirely with the State of New York. A vessel leaving Lake Erie can descend to the Niagara and Cornwall Canal and Lake St. Francis pass via the Chateaugay and St. Louis sections and Lake St. Louis and the Lachine Canal to Montreal. Her time would be sixty-two hours.

ENDED IN SMOOKING.

Dramatic Scenes Mark the Last Day of the Panama Trial.

There were painful scenes at Tuesday's trial of the Panama corruptionists in Paris. M. Fontane addressed the jury before they retired. Sobbing violently, he implored them not to condemn him without proof, and concluded by crying dramatically: "I am innocent!" He then sank back and hid his face in his hands. The other defendants seemed cool except the Deputy de la Fauconnerie, who was faint from suffering with the gout. When the verdict was pronounced M. Balbut turned deadly pale. M. Sans Leroy swooned, overjoyed by his acquittal. M. Fontane, however, was again most affected and fainted for several minutes. When he recovered he embraced his counsel and then tottered to the side of Charles de Lesseps, who was his greatest friend, and, burying his face in his hands, wept like a child. De Lesseps, visibly affected, leaned over the dock and endeavored to console him, till the guards supporting M. Fontane by the arms led him from the court. As M. Balbut is unable to pay his fines he is liable to two years more imprisonment.

THEY WILL GO ABROAD.

Mrs. Blaine and Family Will Spend a Year in Europe.

The Blaine family will remove in the spring from the historic old house on Lafayette Square, Washington. The family will leave Washington early in May and go abroad for a year's residence. The Bar Harbor place will be leased. Mrs. Blaine's plan is to go direct to London and take a house in the suburbs. She will be accompanied by Miss Hattie Blaine, James G. Blaine, Jr., and the Coppinger boys. It is possible that Mrs. Emerson Blaine may join them. The greater portion of the year's absence from this country will be spent in London.

Very Popular Bill.

The parish councils bill, which was read in Parliament for the first time Tuesday, met with almost unanimous approval. Even the Conservatives were not disposed to quarrel with the principle of the bill, while its democratic character, which was unexpected even by the most ardent parochial reformers, overjoyed the Radicals, who want the Government to keep the local veto bill, which threatens dissolution of the Liberal party, in order to get the parish bill passed at this session.

Victim of a Nihilist Plot.

M. Alexieff, mayor of Moscow, who was shot Tuesday afternoon at a meeting of the city council, died from the effects of his injuries early the following morning. Adrianoff, his murderer, refuses to make any statement as to his reason for shooting the mayor, but the police are firm in their conviction that the crime is the outcome of a nihilist plot.

Big Lumber Syndicate.

The Iowa and Oregon Lumber Company, with a capital stock of $5,000,000, was organized at Muscatine, by twelve of the principal lumbermen of the Mississippi Valley. The object of the company will be to handle a tract of 50,000 acres of Oregon land, which is richly timbered.

There Were Six Bodies in the Box.

The mystery of the dry-goods box found by Douglas Myers, drifting down the Missouri at St. Joseph has not yet been solved. Douglas Myers made an investigation, and found there were six bodies instead of five, but being met and lost among.

HARD AFTER THE COMBINE.

Neither Court Orders Nor Threats Alarm the Minnesota Legislators.

The Minnesota Legislative committee having in charge the investigation of the coal combine is being assisted in its efforts materially from outside and unknown sources, and while the coal dealers say the combine is dead the committee is unearthing startling evidence. The letter files which were seized from Mr. Rhodes, the local St. Paul manager, show conclusively the existence of the combine. Many of the letters seized, as well as some which were sent in anonymously, were made public. One of them shows the steps taken at the time Minneapolis advertised for coal supplies for the use of the city, as follows:

DEAR SIR:—At a meeting of the board of managers of the Minnesota coal association held this day, at which each of the shipping companies was represented, the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"It is hereby resolved that we will not furnish coal governed by the association to any retail dealers in Minneapolis who have put in bids for coal to be furnished the city of Minneapolis at less than the prices authorized by this association (should their bids be accepted), except at the regular retail prices." Yours respectfully,

JOHN P. RHODES.

Senator Donnelly received a letter from a coal mine owner in Pennsylvania, and, being asked about its contents, made the following statement: "I had a letter from a coal baron in Pennsylvania notifying me that the coal dealers in that State have heard of the legislative investigation now under way, and give us timely warning that unless we stop it this entire State will be shut out from the hard coal market for the season of 1893 and 1894. I have not answered the letter, but when I do I think I shall be able to satisfy the gentleman that in Minnesota we are not accustomed to being scared by threats like that."

FOUGHT THE ROBBERS VICIOUSLY.

Remarkable Courage Displayed by a Little Girl in Omaha.

Fritz Gastright, residing at 8th and Bancroft streets, Omaha, drew $1,000 from a bank to cash a mortgage on his home. He put the money in a bureau drawer. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. Gastright went out, leaving their 15-year-old daughter Nellie alone in the house. Half an hour afterward the girl discovered two burglars crawling through the kitchen window. She leveled the empty revolver at them and ordered them to leave the house. They started, when one of them suddenly swung around and knocked the pistol from her hand. He then started to rob the house while his companion held the girl. She fought so desperately that both failed to subdue her until they knocked her senseless with a slugs. When Mr. Gastright and his wife returned they found their daughter lying on the floor, and a part of the house, including the drawers in the bureau and tables, ransacked, but the money was still safe. She says had the revolver been loaded she would have shot the men, and that she would not have shot to frighten, either. The supposition is that the girl's resistance so delayed the robbers that the return of her parents interrupted their search for the money.

A FRENCH LEADER GONE.

M. Jules Ferry, President of the Senate, Dead.

M. Jules Ferry, but recently elected President of the French Senate, died suddenly Friday evening at Paris. His death has made a great sensation in the world of politics. He was one of those upon whom the people counted in the event of the republic changing its constitutional form. He was a candidate for the Presidency, without success, and it was the impression of the public that he would be again a candidate in future elections. His death was a most unexpected event. Death was caused by heart failure. The affection of the heart, from which he suffered, was due to the effects of a bullet striking a rib near the base of the heart at the time he was attacked by Auterlin in 1887.

IN EACH OTHER'S ARMS.

Despondent Husband and Wife Commit Suicide in Tennessee.

In a lonely cabin near Reelfoot, Lake, in Lake County, Tenn., there was discovered the dead bodies of a man and woman clasped in each other's arms. An empty revolver lying between them told the tale. The bodies were those of Albert Carter and his wife, who lately moved to the county from Iowa. Some weeks ago the couple had a misunderstanding, terminating in a domestic brawl, in which the woman was severely beaten. She left her husband, but a reconciliation was effected. Last Saturday their infant died and they became despondent and ended their troubles in death.

Driven from Home by Threats.

R. W. Crow and his family have been driven from their home at New, N. C., by anonymous threats of destruction of their property and fear of assassination. Crow is a white man, and his daughter taught a school for negro children. On Saturday night the schoolhouse was overturned and destroyed. Mr. Crow has received anonymous letters threatening him with death unless he left the town. The better class of citizens are indignant over the outrage, and are making efforts to discover the guilty parties.

Kept Off American Soil.

Twenty-three Chinese coolies, consigned to Cuba and legally and literally in bond, occupied a car of an east-bound train that passed Cheyenne, Wyo. An agent of the Southern Pacific Railway was in charge of the shipment. He said the Chinese were not allowed on American soil while crossing the continent. On this account a board walk was built for them between the pier at San Francisco and the railway track. These laborers go under contract to remain on the sugar plantation three years.

Shortage Is Now $400,000.

A sensation has been caused by the arrest and imprisonment of Felipe Osante, a prominent and wealthy merchant of Guanajuato, Mexico, on the charge of being connected with the recent defalcation in the Guanajuato branch of the National Bank of Mexico. The amount of shortage is now placed at $400,000.

Mysterious Robbery of Mails.

A mysterious mail robbery has just been discovered in Akron, Ohio. The sums involved are placed at about $25,000. This amount was placed in a special mail pouch at the Akron Postoffice. Nothing has been seen of that bag since it was taken from the mail wagon at the Union depot.

Helpless and Perished.

An old negro was found to death in his cabin near Union, Mo. Though his hands and feet were paralyzed, he lived alone.

New Man for a Franchise.

Rev. James P. O'Connell, of Albany, N. Y., is reported as having been elected. He is a member of the regular clergy.

J. W. MACKAY WORSE.

HIS ILLNESS TAKES A DANGEROUS TURN.

Upturned Lifeboats from the Missing Narcotic Sighted — Ex-President Harrison Practicing Law — Stirring Up the Canadian Annexation Question — Kansas What Threatened.

Mackay May Die.

Millionaire John W. Mackay has had a change for the worse and is said to be in a dangerous condition. Something has lodged in the vermiform appendix and peritonitis has set in. An operation is necessary, and this, in Mr. Mackay's weakened condition, will be dangerous. He was delirious Sunday and at night was under the influence of opiates, but Monday was a trifle better. He knows his condition and has called his wife and son. The latter left Liverpool at once.

CANADIANS WANT UNION.

Editor Edward Farrer Says the Annexation Feeling Is Strong.

Edward Farrer, of Toronto, lately one of the editors of the Globe and an avowed annexationist, is in Washington in the interest of political union between the Dominion, the provinces and the United States. Mr. Farrer declares that the sentiment in favor of annexation in Canada is far more widely spread than is generally supposed in the United States. He cites one instance where a poll was quietly taken in a city of 7,000 voting population near Quebec, where there were only 104 votes cast against annexation, the remainder of the 7,000 being all in favor of union with the United States. He declares that continental union clubs are springing up all over the Dominion, and that they are gaining in membership constantly. Mr. Farrer, in company with Congressman Chipman of Michigan, will call upon the Secretary of State and the President, when the plans of the annexationists of Canada will be laid before the administration. In the next House Mr. Chipman will make the initial movement to bring about union, and he will be joined by all the Michigan delegation, which will meet in Washington this week for the purpose of outlining a plan of campaign for the summer.

THREE HUNDRED DIE.

Awful March of Siberian Convicts in a Raging Snowstorm.

Siberian advices give details of a sad loss of life among a band of convicts bound for the prisons of Siberia. The band numbered in all 374 persons. The convicts were marching during a snowstorm, and when six hours from Tomsk the storm had become so severe that all the roads were obliterated. Chained together, the convicts struggled along until gradually the weaker ones fell in the deep snow, dragging the stronger ones down with them. Despite the efforts of the Cossack guards, the exhausted people could make no attempt to save themselves and they were abandoned to freeze to death, while the others were driven forward, those in charge hoping to get them to a place of shelter. When the guards managed to get what few remained of their charges to a place of safety they found that of the 374 persons they had started with only ninety-one survived. Sixty-two of those who had perished were political prisoners. Among those lost were Mme. Lazarov, six other women and four children.

THE NARONIC GOES DOWN.

Long-Overdue Freight Steamer Known to Have Been Lost.

Bremen advices say that the freight steamer Naronic is lost. The British steamer Coventry, Capt. Wilson, from Fernandina, Feb. 10, has arrived. She reports that 2 o'clock in the morning of March 4, when in latitude 42° N., longitude 46° W., she passed a lifeboat pointed white, bearing the name "Naronic." The boat was floating keel upward. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon of the same day another lifeboat from the Naronic was passed. This boat gave evidence of having encountered heavy sea. The mast and oars of the lifeboat had been lashed together and attached to the painter and then thrown overboard as a sea anchor to keep the boat's head up to the wind and sea.

Far from Encouraging in Kansas.

From all the information that can be secured regarding the new wheat crop in Kansas it can be said that it is far from encouraging. In many places there has not been any moisture to cause the grain to sprout and it lies in the ground unsprouted. Secretary Mohler, of the Agriculture Department, said: "In the West the ground has been very dry, but the snow will give enough moisture to bring the wheat up all right. Everything now depends on favorable conditions." C. W. Davis, the 32 wheat predictor, says that a half crop of wheat would be a blessing to the farmers.

Collision on the Erie.

The east-bound Erie passenger train No. 12 was run into by No. 10, another passenger train, at Lackawanna, twenty-three miles west of Port Jervis, N. Y., at 5 o'clock in the morning. The rear Pullman sleeper was demolished, and ten passengers, the occupants of the coach, were injured, some of them seriously. No. 12 was waiting at the station for a locomotive to replace one which was disabled. The other cars were uninjured and no passengers in them were hurt. Surgeons and physicians were sent to the scene of the wreck on a special train from Port Jervis.

Armed Convicts Escape.

Five white convicts, armed with revolvers, have escaped from the chain gang at Watertown, Ga. After a lively fusillade two surrendered, but the other three are still at large. One of the trio is Charles Bowden, who was serving a life sentence for murder. Bowden is handsome and a well-educated young man, worth $25,000. He pays the widow of the murdered man $500 a year.

Gen. Harrison Begins Practice of Law.

A Washington dispatch says: Monday morning's mail brought to the capital a number of letters included in return envelopes, the card of which read: "Benjamin Harrison, Attorney and Counsel-at-law, Indianapolis, Ind." They were the first of the new series which the ex-President intended on returning to professional life.

CONDITION OF TRADE.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Business.

R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade says:

Distribution of goods continues large for the season in spite of extraordinary weather, some failures, and a tight money market. Storms and severe cold have retarded trading and collections throughout a large part of the country, and doubtless cause much of the monetary pressure, though a larger part is due to the great excess of imports over exports. Europe is not shipping products from the country as usual nor lending money as much as usual to carry products here until they are needed, and accumulated stocks at commercial centers, with slow collections in the country, make the demand for money unusually large. The natural results of the great Reading collapse are seen in some failures at Philadelphia and a more cautious spirit among lenders. Money is not, as usual, tight only on call or for speculation, but there has been greater difficulty here than for many years past in effecting commercial loans. In spite of all these things confidence is unabated and business is remarkably large, with some signs of improvement.

GAVE HIS BLOOD FOR MONEY.

Transfused into a Victim of Asphyxiation with Good Results.

Mrs. Ann Julian, a widow of White Plains, N. Y., was accidentally asphyxiated by gas. The doctor could not restore her to consciousness and feared she would die of suffocation. He decided to try transfusion of blood to start a circulation of her own life current. Jno. Murphy, a hostler, weighing 195 pounds, agreed to furnish the blood for $5. Eight ounces of his blood was drawn off into a vessel and stirred with a bundle of small quills and then pumped into Mrs. Julian's arm. An hour after the infusion Mrs. Julian began to regain consciousness, and soon she recognized the doctor and others about her. At night the doctor said she would recover beyond a doubt. Mr. Murphy was never in any danger. "I feel as hearty as a roach," said he, "and could do it again easy, at the same price."

Pursued by the Fire Fiend.

An overheated steamship in the Tremont Temple at Boston was the cause of a fire Sunday morning that laid in ashes that historic house of worship, caused a loss of nearly half a million dollars, scared the thousand guests of the Parker House into an undress panic, frightened the lodgers of the Park Hotel and Tremont House from their beds to the street without regard to toilet, and provided the firemen with a foe more than they could vanquish. The Parker House is badly damaged and dozens of firms and societies have lost heavily.

Married Her Coachman.

Mrs. Frances Hiller, the eccentric widow of Dr. Hiller, worth about $5,000,000, has married her coachman in New York City. She gave her first husband a $150,000 burial, and bought for herself a $25,000 coffin which she keeps in her parlor. Her coachman, whose name was Peter Surrette, had his name changed to Hiller, that the beloved name might not perish from the family. The wedding took place at midnight, the Rev. Frederick Hovey Allen being routed out of bed to perform the ceremony.

No Ada Rehan Statue.

A New York paper says that the full length statue of Miss Ada Rehan, in silver, for the Montana exhibit at the World's Fair, which has caused such widespread discussion, will not be made. Sculptor Park, of Chicago, it is stated, has changed the plan entire, and only a silver bust of Miss Rehan will be made.

Fatal Collision.

An east-bound Union Pacific express train ran into an open switch near Evansville, Wyo., and the result was a bad wreck, in which B. F. Gay, a postal clerk, was killed and Engineer Lethbridge seriously scalped.

Things Look Better in Missouri.

The outlook for wheat has greatly improved in Missouri within the last two weeks. The most reliable information places the yield at 75 per cent. throughout the State.

The town of Athens, Ala., on the Louisville and Nashville Railroad, was almost totally destroyed by fire. Several lives were lost.
